Dajing Gao, a co-author who published two articles in International Journal of Bioprinting Volume 5 Issue 1, had requested a change to the affiliation. Dajing Gao, who was working at Xi'an University of Technology (China) at the time of article processing stage, claimed that he overlooked the affiliation part, and thus, the incorrect affiliation was not corrected in time. In both articles, only Dajing Gao requested affiliation change, while the affiliation of other co-authors remains the same.

See below the revised author and affiliation blocks of both articles:
